ABOUT ME

I’m Gregory Zelfond, the SharePoint Maven.

I’ve been a SharePoint geek and advocate for over 10 years, and here’s why:

- I love order and organizing things
- I love simplicity

Managing a team or a project is complicated enough. You need a tool that gets the job done, then gets out of your way. SharePoint can be that tool for you, if you set it up right. That’s where I come in.

As a SharePoint Consultant, I have helped countless businesses and nonprofits to use SharePoint to facilitate team collaboration, simplify project management, and streamline document management. From creating simple but intuitive intranet portals to developing implementation strategies and site architectures, I develop SharePoint solutions that help you get things done quickly and accurately.

ABOUT SHAREPOINT MAVEN

As a SharePoint consultant, I help businesses and non-profits around the globe to leverage the power of SharePoint and Office 365. This can include:

- Creating user-friendly, functional SharePoint Intranets
- Setting up sites for your projects or team
- Converting your folder hierarchies into metadata document libraries
- Providing SharePoint training for your employees, power users and administrators

Since I strongly believe in creating affordable solutions, I only use the out-of-the-box functionality built into SharePoint to create functional sites with easy-to-use interfaces. No expensive third party tools. No custom coding. This approach allows me to provide clients with cost-effective SharePoint environments that meet their needs and are easy to maintain.

MY BLOG

I also believe in sharing what I've learned. My blog subscribers have relied on my in-depth posts to learn best practices for SharePoint document management, implementation, information architecture, metadata, and more.

My blog is geared towards the end users and power users of SharePoint. However, I do not focus on specific function or feature of SharePoint. Instead, my posts answer "real world" questions, like, "How to approach SharePoint Migration", "How to set security for a SharePoint site" or "How to structure sites in SharePoint Intranet".

All the tips and tricks I share rely solely on the out-of-the-box functionality. I publish 6-8 posts per month on average. My clients and blog followers are my biggest source of inspiration. And their "How to" questions are the endless source of topics for my blog.
